Paying for College

Students are expected to contribute money from savings, summer and school year earnings, or obtain loans to pay college expenses. Parents are expected to contribute from their income and assets. Colleges and universities attempt to meet all or most of the student's "need" by putting together a financial aid package made up of grants, scholarships, loans and work-study. The student's "need" is the cost of education for one academic year, minus the expected contribution from the student and parents.

In August 1993, Congress amended the Higher Education Act creating the new direct lending program as well as minor changes in the financial aid application process.

Financial Aid

Many more students, particularly middle-income students are eligible for federal aid than in past years. All students, regardless of family income, should apply for financial aid. Financial aid is available through both state and federal funding. Grant money does not need to be paid back while loans must be repaid (with interest). Work-study is money earned from work and used to help pay for school. Another source of free money is scholarships.

To be eligible for financial aid, students must have a financial need, receive a high school diploma or GED, or pass an independently administered test approved by the U.S. Department of Education. Students also need to be a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen, registered with the Selective Service, if required and complete all necessary forms. For financial aid to continue once awarded, students must make satisfactory academic progress.

Financial aid eligibility is the difference between the cost of education and the Expected Family Contribution (EFC). A federal formula performs a needs analysis to determine the EFC. The cost of education includes tuition and fees, room and board, books and supplies, transportation and miscellaneous expenses.

Types of Financial Aid

Grants Grants are need based and don't have to be repaid and you don't need to work to earn them. Grant aid comes from federal and state governments and from individual colleges.

- Public schools tend to give grants to students with very low income.
- Private schools use grant monies for students to attract students they want.

Loans Most financial aid comes in the form of loans, aid that must be repaid. Most loans that are awarded based on financial need are low-interest loans sponsored by the federal government. These loans are subsidized by the government so no interest accrues until you begin repayment after you graduate.

To qualify for loans or any other financial aid—students must maintain a 2.0 GPA each quarter and be enrolled half time.

Do you plan on taking out a loan to help pay for your son or daughter's college? Make sure you find out if the type of loan is subsidized or unsubsidized. Subsidized loans are federal loans with very low interest and are the best choice.

Parent Plus Loans are need based and can be granted for up to as much as the cost of a school. Parents will pay an origination fee (speaker used example of 3%) and are low interest (speaker used example of 5%). Parents cannot borrow more than the cost of attendance using a Parent Plus Loan.

Bank Loans Thinking about taking out a bank loan? Private Educational Loans tend to be high interest (speaker used example of 11%). Make sure you speak with your financial advisor about your options.

Student Loans: Do you plan on having your son or daughter help pay for college through loans? Know their limits. Students can borrow up to only the below amounts through a Stafford Loan each year:

1 st year: $2,625	3 rd year: $5,500
2 nd year: $3,500	4 th year: $5,500

The Stanford Loan is a low interest loan with a debt cap of $23,000. To continue to qualify for this loan—or any other financial aid—students must maintain a 2.0GPA each quarter and be enrolled half time. Students begin making monthly payments six months after they graduate or leave school. Does your child fully understand what it means to take out and pay back a loan? Some colleges—including BCC—require students to go through loan counseling before they qualify. Career Center staff recommend parents talk with their children about the positives and negatives of loans.

Work Study - Work study positions are need based. Student employment and work-study aid helps students pay for education costs such as books, supplies, and personal expenses. Work-study is a federal program which provides students with part-time employment to help meet their financial needs and gives them work experience while serving their campuses and surrounding communities.

Scholarships (Need and/or Merit Based) Most colleges have scholarship money that they give out on a first come, first serve basis for students who meet specific academic requirements. Financial aid counselors also recommend students register with www.fastweb.com for a customized scholarship search. Students are encouraged to check out the scholarship corner in the IHS Career Center and on our website. Many scholarships are awarded based on merit, ethnic background, or personal interests regardless of financial need.

College Savings Plans Are you saving money for college for your son or daughter? Where are you saving it? Is the money in your name or your child's? Where your money resides will determine how much it will get taxed. This amount could be anywhere from only 5% to as much as 50%! Make sure you speak with your financial advisor before you begin paying college tuition about how college savings plans affect your ability to qualify for financial aid.

How To Apply For Financial Aid

1. Students must complete a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). FAFSAs are available at high schools and college Financial Aid Offices in November or December. The FAFSA should be completed and mailed after January 1. Deadlines will vary by college and state (they may be as early as February 1st) – students should check with the college they will attend for application deadlines dates for financial aid, but are encouraged to submit the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1st. Late applicants receive aid on a “funds available” basis.

NOTE: Students can speed up the process by applying electronically at www.fafsa.ed.gov. FAFSA on the web is the quickest and easiest method of applying.

2. Students will receive a Student Aid Report (SAR) after the FAFSA is processed. Information is also sent to the college(s) named on the FAFSA. If the student does not receive a SAR in four to six weeks, or they need another copy, they should call 1-800-433-3243 for a duplicate SAR. NOTE: It is the student’s responsibility to check for and correct errors on their SAR forms.

3. The student’s selected College Financial Aid Office(s) will send an award letter to the student indicating the types of aid the student is eligible to receive.

4. Students should check with the college(s) they expect to attend as additional applications/forms may be required for financial aid.

5. PROFILE

This supplementary form is made available to high schools along with the FAFSA. Some colleges and universities will require this form to be completed in addition to the FAFSA before a financial aid package can be determined. Students should consult with the Financial Aid Office of the school of their choice to find out if the supplementary form is necessary.

NOTE: Special circumstances (such as changes in income and other factors affecting eligibility) may be considered. Should special circumstances arise, the student should submit a letter of explanation to the Financial Aid Office at the school of their choice.

Important Phone Numbers

Federal Student Aid Information Center: Hours are 8:00 AM to Midnight, Eastern Time (seven days a week).

- For questions about eligibility, form completion or correction, or publications on financial aid: 1-800-433-3243.
- Processing center, to find out if your form has been processed: www.fafsa.ed.gov or 1-800-433-3243.
- For hearing impaired: 1-800-730-8913.

Federal and State Programs

---

- Pell Grant
Pell Grants, Perkins Loans, Work-Study and SEOG will be available, based on demonstrated financial need and availability of funds.
- Perkins Loan
Repayments begin nine months after student status drops to less than half time, with up to 10 years to repay.
- Work-Study Program
Makes available jobs on and off campus with hourly wages paid directly to the student to help pay for education expenses.
- Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program (SEOG)
This program is for students of exceptional financial need, who without the grant would be unable to continue their education. The SEOG is awarded through the financial aid office of the school you plan to attend. The SEOG is not an entitlement program; that is, there are no guarantees attached to it. Each school receives a set amount of money to use for SEOG's. When the money is gone, there are no more SEOG's for that year.
- Stafford Loan
Formerly called the Guaranteed Student Loan program. Repayment begins six months after student status drops to less than half time and has a 10-year repay timeline.
- Unsubsidized Stafford Loan
A program available to undergraduates who do not demonstrate financial need. Students still file the FAFSA for the regular Stafford first, and if not eligible, will automatically be considered for the unsubsidized program. Same interest and repayment terms as Federal Stafford, except interest is not subsidized and will accrue during in-school and six-month grace periods. Students have the option of either paying the interest as it accrues on the loan or capitalizing the interest and paying it off along with the principle following graduation.
- Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)
Parents can borrow the entire cost of their students' education, less financial aid. Repayment of PLUS loans must begin within 60 days of disbursement with up to 10 years to repay.
- Other Programs
The Federal Government also makes low interest loans to students through the following programs:
  - 1) Nursing Students Loan
  - 2) HEAL – Health Education Assistance Program
  - 3) LEAP – Law Enforcement Assistance Program

The State of Washington offers assistance to the needy or disadvantaged students by programs such as:

- 1) Tuition Waiver Program
- 2) State Need Grant Program
- 3) State Work-Study Program – which allows students to work in the private sector.

Important! Selective Service Notice

To receive any form of federally funded financial aid, such as Pell Grants, Supplemental Grants, Work-Study, and Loans, male students must have proof that they have registered with the Selective Service. Male students must register within 30 days of their 18th birthday.

Scholarships – General Information

Each year private organizations, corporations, fraternal groups, clubs and labor unions provide funds for students to complete their education. Most scholarships are based upon both achievement and need, while other scholarships are based on scholastic achievement and school/community involvement. Students are encouraged to apply for all scholarships for which they are eligible. National scholarship information is available through the listed organizations websites.

This document is provided to help with student's scholarship search. This booklet does not contain all scholarship opportunities available. Students are responsible for verifying scholarship details and insuring their application packets are complete and deadlines are met.

Scholarships – Tips for Winning Scholarship Applications

10 Tips for Winning Scholarship Applications as published on FastWeb.com

by Kay Peterson, Ph.D.

Before you submit your scholarship application, check out these tips, provided by scholarship sponsors nationwide.

Tip #1: Apply only if you are eligible.

Read all the scholarship requirements and directions carefully to make sure you're eligible before you send in your application.

Tip #2: Complete the application in full.

If a question doesn't apply, note that on the application. Don't just leave a blank. Supply all additional supporting material, such as transcripts, letters of recommendation and essays.

Tip #3: Follow directions.

Provide everything that's required, but don't supply things that aren't requested—you could be disqualified.

Tip #4: Neatness counts.

Always type your application, or if you must print, do so neatly and legibly. Make a couple of photocopies of all the forms before you fill them out. Use the copies as working drafts as you develop your application packet.

Tip #5: Write an essay that makes a strong impression.

The key to writing a strong essay is to be personal and specific. Include concrete details to make your experience come alive: the who, what, where, and when of your topic. The simplest experience can be monumental if you present honestly how you were affected.

Tip #6: Watch all deadlines.

To help keep yourself on track, impose your own deadline that is at least two weeks prior to the official deadline. Use the buffer time to make sure everything is ready on time. Don't rely on extensions—very few scholarship providers allow them at all.

Tip #7: Make sure your application gets where it needs to go.

Put your name (and Social Security number, if applicable) on all pages of the application. Pieces of your application may get lost unless they are clearly identified.

Tip #8: Keep a back-up file in case anything goes wrong.

Before sending the application, make a copy of the entire packet. If your application goes astray, you'll be able to reproduce it quickly.

Tip #9: Give it a final "once-over."

Proofread the entire application carefully. Be on the lookout for misspelled words or grammatical errors. Ask a friend, teacher or parent to proofread it as well.

Tip #10: Ask for help if you need it.

If you have problems with the application, don't hesitate to call the funding organization.
